

Mawa—the water of origins

Mawa — a name rooted in ancient wisdom. Derived from the ancient Egyptian hieroglyph “Mw”, meaning water, Mawa is more than just hydration — it’s a return to the source of life itself.

According to ancient Egyptian mythology, the universe began in a vast, boundless ocean of primal waters, known as Nun — the god of the deep. From this infinite abyss rose the primordial mound, the first land... and with it, life began.

Mawa

The Egyptians honored water as sacred — the essence of creation, renewal, and purity. they inscribed it in stone, using the graceful wave symbol “~” to represent the sound “r”, and three waves to write the word “Mw” — water.

From the Past, To the Purest Drop ...

At Mawa, we've captured this ancient reverence and paired it with nature's finest. Our water comes from the pristine Siwa Oasis — one of Egypt's purest and most untouched sources.
